SHARE THE ROAD WITH FARMERS THIS PLANTING SEASON

With temperatures on the rise, more farmers will be out in their fields, which means slow-moving farm equipment will soon be on Indiana roadways.

To keep motorists and farmers safe this planting season, several state agencies have partnered together to encourage Hoosiers to be alert, slow down and share the road with farm equipment.

“As a top agricultural state, whether you live in rural, urban or suburban Indiana, a majority of motorists will come across large farm equipment on the road this planting season,” said Lt. Governor Suzanne Crouch. “We want to encourage every Hoosier to be mindful, slow down and share the road, which will not only ensure their safety, but also the safety of our farmers.”

According to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, farm equipment vehicles (other than trucks) were involved in 92 fatal crashes across the nation, with six of those occurring in Indiana.

By law, farm equipment must have the nationally designated slow-moving vehicle sign – a red triangle-shaped reflector – to warn drivers that their equipment is on the road. These vehicles often travel at speeds no higher than 25 mph.

“Roadway safety is a priority of the Indiana State Police, especially when large farm machinery will be crossing state and county roads to farm fields during the planting season,” said Indiana State Police (ISP) Superintendent Doug Carter. “Patience, courtesy and understanding, along with the undivided attention of farmers and the traveling public will help ensure a safe 2018 growing season.”

The following list includes several safety tips for motorists approaching large farm equipment:

Most farmers will pull over when they are able to let you pass, but it may take time for them to get to a safe place to do so. Be patient.

Farm equipment is wide, sometimes taking up most of the roadway. Be careful when passing.

Do not pass if you are in a designated “No Passing Zone” or within 100 feet of any intersection, railroad grade crossing, bridge, elevation structure, or tunnel.

Do not try to pass a slow-moving vehicle on the left without ensuring that the vehicle is not planning a left turn. It may appear that the driver is pulling over for you to pass when it is actually preparing to turn. You will drive right into its path, endangering yourself and the farmer.

Avoid tailgating, as some farm equipment might have to make sudden stops along the road.

Allow plenty of time to get to your destination, be aware of alternate routes and avoid distractions.

Pop Lit Students Get Creative

Students in Miss Castle's Contemporary Popular Literature course recently finished up a unit on "Relationships & Gender differences in Society." Students presented a summative assessment using an app known as "ThingLink."

The students went above and beyond in this particular assignment, proving their strengths in learning a new technology and melding their creative abilities into proving their understanding of a fictional work in a little different application than the norm.

LaPorte County Recognizes Master Gardeners

La Porte County Master Gardeners held their annual recognition meeting on Thursday, April 5, at Red Mill County Park.

After a delicious meal at which members were invited to share their favorite dish, Marcy E. Dailey, a Master Gardener-Gold level, recited her poem Composting 101 before a presentation was given by Vincent Sherman, compost site coordinator for the Solid Waste District of La Porte County. Mr. Sherman described the process used to change yard wastes and tree trimmings into usable mulch and compost for landscapes and gardens.

Some of the projects for which Master Gardeners volunteered last year were: organizing a Spring Garden Show for the community, giving gardening presentations at Row Crop Ag Days and organizing growing spaces at several local schools that taught school children about gardening.

Other projects included: giving gardening presentations during their Brown Bag Gardening Series, speaking to service clubs and other groups, demonstrating heirloom plantings at the Pioneer Heritage Garden at the La Porte County Fairgrounds and assisting Habitat for Humanity partner families with landscaping their new homes.

Altogether, in 2017 the La Porte County Master Gardeners volunteered over 3,500 hours "helping others grow" in La Porte County, a benefit worth over $85,000 to the community.

During the meeting, Master Gardeners were recognized for their volunteer work and participation in education activities. Ten Master Gardeners were certified after completing at least 35 hours of volunteer service. Included were: Joanne Gorecki, Dave Morris and Chris Svoboda of La Porte; Laura Henderson, Brian Kanyer, Roxann Lucas, Estelle Pawloski and Wendy Shafer of Michigan City; Gayle Gross de Núñez of Knox; and George Sarver, Jr. of Wanatah.

Three individuals were designated Advanced Master Gardeners after completing a total of at least 60 hours of volunteer service and attending a minimum of 45 hours of gardening education activities.

Those recognized as Advanced Master Gardeners were: Megan Countryman of New Carlisle; Julie Goetz of Westville; and Paula J. Nevers of Portage.

Four hard-working gardeners achieved the Bronze Master Gardener level this year, having donated at least 200 volunteer hours and attended a minimum of 60 hours of gardening classes. They included Dan Blakley and Susan Kieffer of La Porte and Mary Davis and Stephen Zolvinski of Michigan City.

Two individuals, Corie Elliott of Beverly Shores and Carol Lerner of La Porte, achieved the Silver Master Gardener level, having donated at least 500 volunteer hours and attended a minimum of 75 hours of gardening classes. Corie assists with the Lake Hills STEM Elementary project and has assisted with the Spring Garden Show, Farmer's Market Q&A tables and programs at Friendship Botanic Garden and Lubeznik Center. Carol, one of the charter Master Gardeners from 1996, has given programs at Luhr Park, the Spring Garden Show Words cannot express the gratitude that my family and I have for the support, both emotionally and financially, that has been shown to us.

Our family is still in awe from the benefit. We are so grateful to all those people that helped make it possible, that worked there, and to all the people that came and showed their support.

We are also so Grateful for Maple Grove Methodist for hosting the event. This has been a very scary and emotional time, but all the prayers and support that are given to my family and I help make this unexpected ordeal so much more bearable.

So Thankful for Stateline Stables, KFex, Groceries By Joe, Andy's Furniture, Billy Goat 9 & Dine, Monroe's Crossing, The Village Shoppes, Nowhere Bar & Grill and American Legion Post 297 for all your auction donations.

and the Brown Bag Gardening series and has been a regular volunteer staffing the Garden Hotline.

One individual, John Connors of New Carlisle, has put in a tremendous amount of time to achieve Gold Master Gardener status having donated at least 1000 hours of volunteer time and attended a minimum of 100 hours of gardening education.

John recently took the lead on constructing a shed for the Master Gardeners at the Pioneer Heritage Garden. He has also served as a La Porte County Master Gardener Association Board member.

Sharon Cholewa received Gold Master Gardener-3000 status for achieving the level of over 3,000 volunteer hours and more than 300 education hours since becoming a Master Gardener in 1998.

Sharon has been active for many years with the Pioneer Heritage Garden and more recently has assisted with the Maple Square People's Gardens and the Brown Bag Gardening series and has written newsletter articles on heirloom vegetables.

The La Porte County Master Gardener Association is one of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service programs and helps fulfill the state motto of "Helping Others Grow" by training volunteers to promote good gardening and horticultural practices.

The Association accomplishes this through its volunteers conducting educational activities and projects in the community throughout the year.

For more information about the Master Gardener Program or about becoming a Master Gardener, please contact the La Porte County Extension office at 219-324-9407 or visit www.ag.purdue.edu/counties/laporte.

Spanish Honor Society Induction

On Thursday, April 12th, 2018, the Spanish Honor Society held their annual inductions at 6:30pm. Maddie West and Alexa Zeese did a fantastic job conducting the ceremony and several other members for assisting.

Congratulations to Emily Graves, Amellia Klute, Angel Kuespert, Alexis Martin, Kaitlyn Mayo, Erin Novak, and Zoe Spence for becoming the newest members of the New Prairie's Juan Carlos Chapter of the Spanish Honor Society. These students will be completing 15 hours of community service, as well as participating in several activities to enhance their understanding of Spanish culture and language.

International Dinner at NPHS

On Thursday, April 12th, the World Languages department celebrated our annual International Dinner.

Nearly 40 projects detailing countries from around the world were diligently researched and presented by our students. The highlights of the projects were the homemade ethnic foods representing the great variety of countries.

Our Spanish Honor Society students also sold bracelets and small purses handmade in Nicaragua and Guatemala. Proceeds benefit the non-profit Pulsera Project, which creates sustainable jobs in impoverished communities while promoting positive cultural exchanges.

All in all, the evening was entertaining and enlightening, with no one leaving hungry!

NPHS Students Explore Post-Secondary Options

Preparing for College and Careers students have been exploring three avenues that they may want to follow after graduating; College/University, Military, and Skilled Jobs. They have created posters with over 20 facts about different universities, researched jobs in five branches of the military, and are currently working on skilled job videos which they will present in class.

Industrial Revolution Presentations

Mr. Dailey's class is learning about the Industrial Revolution in World History. The students created presentations specifically about child labor.

M & M TOSS

Mrs. Gonder's Honors Algebra 2 class had a very real experience as they used M & M's in two experiments demonstrating the process of exponential growth and decay. The students particularly enjoyed the second experiment in which they had to eat the M & M's.

Environmental Club Reflects on a Great Year

Environmental Club has had a good year. Members have gone hiking, helped tap maple trees at Bendix Woods, started plants for the community garden at the New Carlisle United Methodist Church, and celebrated Earth Day.

NPHS Swimmers Help Middle School Swimmers

The high school swimmers join the coaches helping middle school swimmers. These students attend every practice and help coaches work with the middle school athletes on stroke development, technique, and skills.

Many of these high school students also attend all meets, helping the swimmers understand order of the events and arrive to the blocks for starts. The help these high school students provide both the coaches and the middle school athletes is invaluable.

SEASON PREVIEW: NEWTS LOOK TO MAKE ANOTHER RUN

NEW CARLISLE - With the warmer weather arriving in New Carlisle, the Newts have emerged from hibernation and will open up the 2018 Wiffle®Ball season this weekend against the Twin Branch Billy Goats at Migley Field (Sunday, 1:20pm ET).

Falling in the ORWBL World Series to Maple City in 2017, there seems to be a little extra motivation for the Newts as they embark on their quest for their fourth championship, which eluded them last summer.

Despite the World Series disappointment, the Newts were relatively quiet in the offseason. The roster remains essentially the same, full of veterans looking to make another run at a ring.

It all starts at the top of the lineup with two-time MVP Garrett Curless. The leadoff man hit 51 homers in 2017 and needs just one dinger to become only the fifth player in ORWBL history to reach 300 career home runs.

Speaking of the 300-home run club, the Newts will also look to all-time home run king Scott Soos to continue to produce at an elite level. Soos was the team leader in virtually every offensive category last year, belting 54 homers and driving in 73 runs.

Sticking with the theme of former MVPs, Noah Shail returns for his fifth season with the club. Despite only playing in half of the regular season games last year, the young superstar still hit .577 and clubbed 28 home runs.

On the mound, the Newts pitching staff with hinge on ace Jay Ryans. Ryans, who was unavailable for the entire 2017 World Series, has gained a reputation as a the most effective hurler in the sport. The Newts rode his arm throughout the 2016 playoffs to the team's most recent title.

Danny Hernandez, Joey Schuster, Randy Schuster, Matt Soos, and Sean Touhey will also be expected to make a big impact. Chayse Davis, Jeff Szczypiorski, Dewey Thompson, and Matt Went provide a deep bench of crafty veterans.

Although there were no major offseason acquisitions, the Newts will look for expanded roles from Ryan Galiher and Zarek Finley. A National Wiffle League Association All-Star from his time in the Grifflerball League in northwest Indiana, Galiher appeared in just one series for New Carlisle last year. Finley, known for his play on the tournament circuit with the Warsaw Whitecats, will finally make his ORWBL debut this season. Both players will add a new dimension of athleticism in the field and powerful bats in the lineup.

After five consecutive appearances in the World Series, it would be tempting to pencil in the Newts to be playing in August once again this season. However, the defending National League champions will face an uphill climb just to get back to the Series for the eighth time in franchise's 12-year history.

With the ORWBL expanding to 14 teams, there will be no shortage of challengers to the Newts. Among the most dangerous, the Granger Panthers will be hoping to avenge a loss to New Carlisle in the 2017 NLCS.

Granger finished with the league's best record a season ago, and jumped out to a 9-0 lead in Game 1 of the NLCS at Migley. However, the Newts stormed back to win the game, and eventually the series.

Although New Carlisle and Granger will be the favorites to meet again in the NLCS, the new-look National League features three young expansion teams in the Billy Goats, Landsharks and Silver Sluggers.

The Lynn Street Leprechauns, who finished at the bottom of the standings with just three wins in 2017, continue the process of building up their club.

And of course, the New Carlisle-Rolling Prairie rivalry lives on as Emery's Army enters their second season since Jake Lawrence took command. This offseason Rolling Prairie added Jared Emmons, notorious Newts killer, to bolster their lineup and give a pitching staff a left-handed arm.

Even without taking home the crown in 2017, the Newts remain a squad with a target on their backs for the rest of the league. It will be another interesting summer in Migleyville for the Bray Street Bombers.
